VESSELS CRASHED ON THE OCEAN

The Steamer Juniata Is Rammed and Many Are Hurt.

A GREAT HOLE WAS TORN IN THE SHIP

Her Cabins and Pilot-House
Wrecked and Her Smokestack
Was Carried Away—The Schooner Harwood
Palmer Did the Damage.

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, MASS., September 21.—The injury to six passengers and two of the ship's officers by a collision at sea was reported by the steamer Juniata, of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company, bound from Boston for Baltimore and Norfolk, which returned to this port this afternoon, badly damaged. The Juniata was rammed last night thirty miles off Chatham by the five-masted schooner Harwood Palmer, bound from Baltimore for Portland, Me., with a cargo of coal. The injured: Mr. and Mrs. Friedell, Pittsburg, badly bruised; J. W. Johnson, Northampton, Mass., leg broken, injured internally; condition serious. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Murray, South Boston, bruised and badly shaken up. Corporal J. J. Mattingly, United States Marine Corps, hands cut. Captain Z. Nickerson, of the Juniata, injury to hands. Quartermaster John Crockett, hands cut and bruised. No one on board the schooner was injured.

Great Hole in Steamer.
That the accident did not result in a general loss of life on the steamer is considered remarkable by every one on board. The steamer had a great hole stove in her starboard side amidships, her cabins from that point forward were ripped and torn into kindling wood, her pilot-house was wrecked and the foremast and smokestack were carried away. The Juniata returned to her dock here this afternoon and landed her passengers. Arrangements were made to transfer the cargo. The Palmer lost her jibboom, bowsprit and headgear. The accident occurred at 9:50 o'clock last night when the Juniata was steaming around Cape Cod. A fog hung over the water and the steamer's speed had been reduced somewhat. Captain Nickerson was in the pilot-house directing the movements of his ship. Suddenly the lookout shouted a warning that a big vessel was to the starboard and bearing down on the steamer rapidly. Captain Nickerson ordered the engines reversed, but even as his order was being executed the flapping of huge sails and shouts of alarm were heard, and in less than a minute from the time the lookout gave his warning the steamer was struck a terrific blow squarely amidships on the starboard side.

Mass of Wreckage.
Immediately following the first crash the schooner scraped along the side of the steamer, her spars and rigging turning the upper deck into a mass of wreckage. State-rooms and the pilot-house were torn apart as though made of paper. The immense jibboom of the schooner was hurled across the state-rooms and pilot-house became imbedded in the upper works and was snapped off short. All aboard the steamer remained cool, and there was not the slightest measure of panic. As a precautionary measure, the life-boats were made ready by the crew, and sailors not thus engaged went to the assistance of a number of the passengers, who were vigorously working on the mass of debris in which several other passengers, including Captain Nickerson and Quartermaster Crockett, were buried. It was found that J. W. Johnson was the only one seriously injured.

State-Room Burned.
His state-room was almost opposite the spot at which the schooner struck, and was buried in the mass of wreckage. His right leg was broken and he sustained internal injuries and cuts about the head and face. The schooner, although damaged, signaled that she was in no danger. Both vessels remained at the scene until daylight, when the extent of the damage sustained by the Juniata was found to be far above the water line. Captain Nickerson decided it would be safe to steam back to Boston. The uninjured passengers were sent to Provincetown, whence they proceeded to their destination on the steamer Esplanade.

INSURANCE MEN FAVOR THE FULLEST POLICITY

(By Associated Press.)
HARTFORD, CONN., September 21.—Harmony prevailed today at the third annual session of the National Association of Life Underwriters, and the threatened split over the adoption of the new plan presented Tuesday by Delegate J. J. Raleigh, of St. Louis, denouncing insurance in general, was averted. A compromise resolution was adopted recommending full publicity in relation to all insurance operations. C. W. Scofield, of Pittsburg, was elected president, and Robert B. Shelden, of Atlanta, third vice-president.

FLAT DENIAL IS MADE BY TAGGART

Democrats Did Not Ask
New York Life for Money.

THE MEMORY OF PERKINS WAS POOR

J. P. Morgan's Partner, Yesterday's Chief Witness, Asked for Permission to Look Up Records Before Answering Questions.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, September 21.—Chairman Taggart, of the Democratic National Committee, arrived in New York today from Indianapolis. He denied the statement made by President McCall, of the New York Life, before the legislative insurance investigating committee on Wednesday, that the Democratic National Committee had solicited money for the campaign fund from that concern. "No member of the national committee or any agent of the committee ever asked Mr. McCall, of the New York Life for a dollar," he said. "Mr. Taggart added: 'Neither the Democratic National Committee nor any other authorized representative of the committee ever asked a dollar's contribution to the campaign fund from any other insurance company.' He said he did not come to New York to testify before the insurance investigating committee. It was also stated at the investigation today to a reporter that Chairman Taggart had not been asked to testify.

Look Up Records.
George W. Perkins, vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, and member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., was on the witness stand before the special legislative committee probing insurance companies' methods during the greater part of today's session. When an adjournment was taken he was still on the stand with a number of questions pending to reply to which he asked permission to look up the records and submit testimony. There was nothing of a sensational character in the testimony today, the only development of moment being the witness' disclosure in which the company sustained a loss of $200,000. Edmund W. Randolph, treasurer of the company had been questioned rather sharply regarding this transaction when he was on the stand last week.

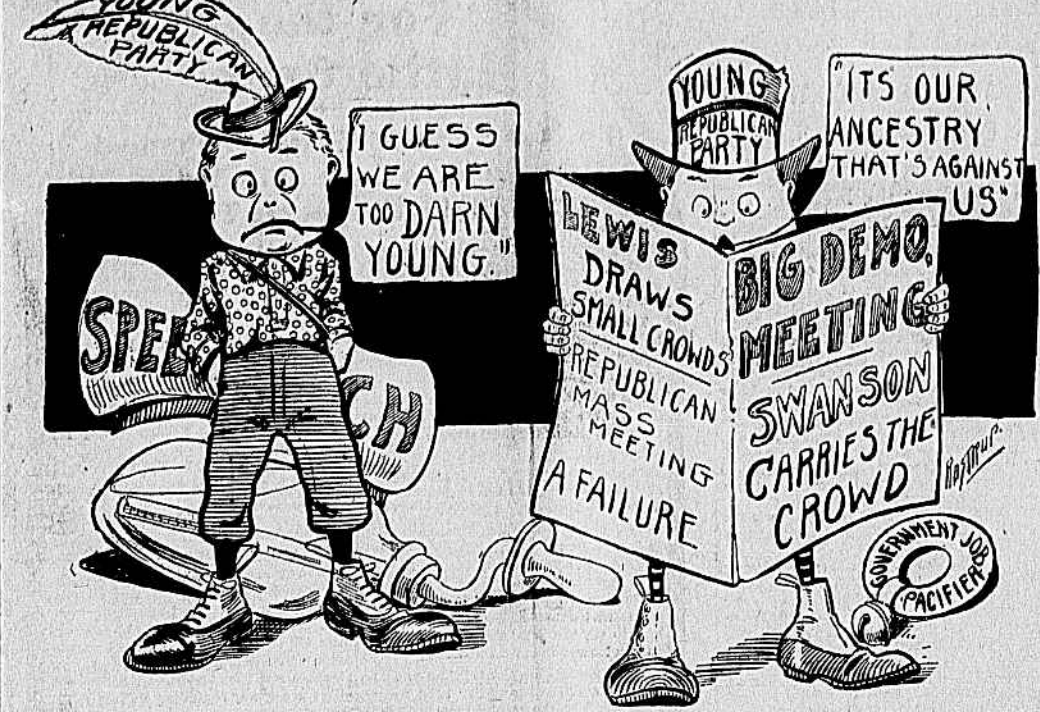

A Sale or Loan.
Today the matter was brought up when Counsel Hughes attempted to probe the collateral loan account. The bonds of the New Orleans Traction Company had been bought from the New York Security and Trust Company at $5 and were subsequently sold at 75. Mr. Perkins testified they were sold on December 31, 1903, to Farnshaw & Co., for $337,500. Mr. Hughes found under date of January 5, 1905, a loan of that amount to Farnshaw, and asked him if the loan was made under these bonds. This Mr. Perkins said he would have to look up and the question was dropped for the present. It was brought out that John R. Hegman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was carrying a running loan with the New York Life of $50,000 at 11-2 per cent. interest. Mr. Perkins did not know whether this matter would also look that up. Witness could not explain why, after the New York Life had paid $1,000,000 worth of bonds from J. P. Morgan & Co.; $2,000,000 worth should be sold back to that firm at the same price within two months and no minutes of the Finance Committee could be found to explain it.

Sold to Himself.
The transaction in relation to syndicate bonds of December 31, 1903, when Mr. Perkins, for the New York Life, sold for

WOMEN WILL HELP TO MAKE CITY PRETTIER

Ladies Auxiliary to the Civic Improvement League to Enter Heartily Into Work.

The good women of Richmond will give the Civic Improvement League hearty and helpful co-operation in the very worthy effort to make this fair city of ours more attractive and beautiful. The Ladies' Auxiliary was formed at an enthusiastic meeting held last night at the home of Miss Lou Belle Jones, No. 8 North Second Street, and Miss Jones was made chairman. The large number of teachers in attendance was especially gratifying. Ladies in all sections of the city will be invited to join in the movement, and another and more general meeting will be held at the home of Miss Scott next Saturday week, September 30th at 8 P. M. Cleaner streets, more flowers, prettier yards and more attractive homes are among the objects for which the auxiliary will work. Immediate steps will be taken to try and have trash cans put on Main and other public streets, and the School Board will be urged to rescind its rule prohibiting the giving of any notices in the school rooms. The special design of this is to permit notices to be given of the distribution of flower seed in the hope of interesting the children in growing flowers.

PRESENTATION OF LOVING CUP

Dr. Calisch Honored and Welcomed By Ladies of Beth Ahabah Temple.

MR. HUTZLER WAS ELOQUENT
Dr. Calisch's Response a Gem. Rooms Are Beautifully Decorated for Reception.

The vestry rooms of the Beth Ahabah Synagogue were last night the scene of a beautiful and most enjoyable reception accorded Dr. E. N. Calisch on his arrival home from Europe. The hall was most tastefully decorated in autumn flowers and leaves, the pillars being covered with gladiolus, asters and crimson leaves. A large electric sign with the word "Welcome," was effectively situated above the place where Dr. Calisch stood to receive, and the wall behind him was prettily clothed in green branches, which gave a brilliant dash of color to the scene. The address of welcome was delivered by Julius Straus, president of the congregation, who voiced the sentiments of the assembly present in delicate words of praise and love for their priest and their joy at his safe return. Dr. Calisch responded in his usual happy vein, saying that he was glad to be back among his flock, and that it gave him the deepest delight to feel that he was so endeared to the hearts of his hearers. The most happy event of the whole evening came in the form of a surprise, one which, however, was characteristic of the congregation, and of the high esteem in which Dr. Calisch is held by his people. This was the presentation of a beautiful silver loving cup by the ladies' Auxiliary of Beth Ahabah.

Mr. Hutzler Speaks.
Mr. Charles Hutzler, who had been selected to make the presentation, arose and said: "To the indulgence of the large company present for something that is not upon the regular programme for this evening. The indulgence is asked on the part of the ladies, that part of creation which is the best and which is always in evidence when anything good, noble and beautiful is accomplished."

GOVERNOR O'FERRALL RAPIDLY SINKING

Not Thought at 3 o'Clock This Morning That He Would Live Until Daylight.

The death of former Governor Charles T. O'Ferrall is now hourly expected. At 3 o'clock this morning it hardly seemed likely that he would hold out until daylight. The family of the distinguished patient was at his bedside all night, fearing the worst at any moment. Many were the inquiries of friends at the house all yesterday, and on all sides are heard expressions of deepest regret at the extreme illness of this patriot and statesman.

Colonel O'Ferrall has long been unwell, and now it is just a trial of his remarkable vitality and strength for a few hours, at most, until the end.

J. B. WOOD SHOTS AT ROBERT BUNCE

Pistol Practice Alarms Residents of Fifth and Main Streets.

FIGHT BEGINS THE TROUBLE
Knife Plays Part—Innocent Bystander is Cut—Wood Arrested and Bailed.

Jackson B. Wood, Jr., who does business as a tobacconist in Murphy's Hotel Annex, and who resides in the Bellvue flats, was arrested at midnight, charged with shooting at Robert Bunce in the streets of the city. A pistol, a knife, the usual wounded bystander and vigorous language all combined to create much excitement on Fifth Street, between Main and Cary, shortly after 11 o'clock. Robert Bunce was walking down Fifth Street towards Cary and J. B. Wood, Jr., was hot foot behind. Just in front of Mr. James Gray's residence Wood overtook Bunce, and springing upon him, hit him a sharp blow on the head. In a moment the two men were engaged in a rough and tumble fight, rolling over the pavement and into the street. A crowd quickly gathered and watched the warfare with interest. Bunce got Wood underneath and gave him such severe punishment that he began to cry, "Murder!" "Help!" "Murder!" Finally Bunce let him go.

Tried to Use Knife.
Retreating a few steps Wood drew a knife and made a dash at his opponent. It was at this stage of the game that the innocent bystander got in his work. As Wood, with his drawn knife made a dash at Bunce, a youth ran in between and received a painful cut on his right elbow. Wood then turned and hurried to his flat, half a square away and returned with a pistol. Bunce had by this time reached the corner of Fifth and Main Streets, but Wood pursued him, fired three shots from a Iver-Johnson, 8-calibre revolver at the retreating warrior. It is not thought that any of the shots found their mark, for Bunce succeeded in making his escape and has not yet been found by the police.

Wood Under Arrest.
About 12 o'clock Officer J. E. Barton arrested Wood on Broad Street, and took him to the Second Police Station, where he was bailed by Justice of the Peace Perdue in the sum of $500, with Mr. W. T. Wylie as bondsman.

Wood, when seen at the police station, bore marks of the battle. His face was cut and bruised and he bore other evidences of the fray. He was simply charged with firing a pistol on the streets. The weapon was found upon him with three chambers empty. Bunce lived formerly in Richmond, but is now a resident of Norfolk, where, it is said, he is in the employ of the Seaboard Air Line Railway. The case will come up in the Police Court this morning.

SENTENCED FOR BEATING PUPIL

Miss Jennie Scott Tried and Found Guilty During Her Absence.

SHE FLED FROM THE STATE
Punished Terribly a Little Girl Who Had Declined to Recite.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GATE CITY, VA., Sept. 21.—Miss Jennie Scott, the teacher of Powell District, in this county, who fled to Tennessee on account of a warrant having been issued for her for beating a little pupil, has been given a trial in her absence and found guilty of the charge. She was fined $50 and sentenced to ninety days in the county jail. She had been summoned to trial, which, lawyers say, makes the proceedings regular. The evidence showed that the child was terribly beaten and lacerated and that the blood from it stained the floor. The little girl had just entered school, being only seven years of age, and through diffidence refused to go on the stage to recite. Miss Scott sent the door, beat the child so that for several days it was thought the injuries would prove fatal. Indignation is very great throughout the county.

MAKE A STRONG FIGHT ON STUART

Senate May Not Confirm the Collector at Newport News.

CHARGE OF CIVIL SERVICE VIOLATION

Promoted Certain Inspectors Because They Were Republicans and Dismissed Others Because They Were Democrats, the Allegations.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 21.—It is probable that there will be a strong fight made against the confirmation by the Senate of the appointment of Captain Job Stuart to the position of collector of customs of the port of Newport News. He was confirmed as marshal of the Eastern District of Virginia to succeed Marshal Morgan Treat, but his transfer to the position of Newport News collector was made too late to admit of action by the Senate last spring. Opposition to the confirmation of Captain Stuart will be based upon his recent action in promoting certain inspectors under him who were Republicans and dismissing others who were Democrats. It was alleged against him that the favoritism shown the inspectors who were promoted was due to their politics, and that the inspectors who were dismissed from the service were "fired." The Civil Service Commission investigated these charges and its findings of the commission reported to the President. The result was a good, hard, call-down from the collector from President Roosevelt himself.

Civil Service Violators
Opposition to the confirmation will be grounded on "flagrant violation of the civil service regulations" at the very outset of his official career. It should be borne in mind that the opposition of one senator to the confirmation of an appointment is sufficient to defeat it, or at least to prevent it for an indefinite time. Solid opposition from the Democrats of the Senate would make the confirmation impossible. Senator Martin is the second ranking member of the Committee on Commerce, to which the nomination of Stuart will be referred. The Senator has never been captious in any measure concerning opposition to the confirmation of appointments. He has, however, in the past, been chiefly responsible for the long delay in the confirmation of the negro who was made collector of the port of Charleston, S. C.

Senator Martin Silent.

Senator Martin declined to discuss his probable course regarding the appointment of Stuart when asked to do so today. He said he preferred not to state his position until he had investigated the matter. Senator Martin reached the city late last night, accompanied by Mrs. Martin. They will remain until tomorrow. He was the first visit of the Senator to the capital since his nomination to the Senate, and he could scarcely get around in the departments, being kept so busy receiving the congratulations of friends. Once he was surrounded by a group of friends on F Street and had to hold an impromptu reception, at which expressions of a congratulatory nature were heard in profusion. Representative Flood, who was here a day or two, went away yesterday. He was not feeling at all well, and did not leave the capital until he was able to fill an appointment to make a speech at Warrenton next Monday.

HOW THE BATTLESHIP MIKASA WAS BURNED

(By Associated Press.)
TOKYO, Sept. 21.—Regarding the loss of the battleship Mikasa, strong doubt is now expressed that the fire started at the base of the main mast. It is believed the conflagration must have been due to an explosion from the outside, which was followed by a greater explosion.

WILBERFORCE HAS BEEN MUCH MALIGNED

Untrue That African Chief Has Returned to Savage Practices.

(By Associated Press.)
WESTERVILLE, O., September 21.—Mrs. Clayton Judy, United Brethren Missionary to West Africa, who has just arrived here from Free Town, South Africa, on a visit to her father, Rev. Frederick Hubel, says that Daniel Pickering Wilberforce, the native missionary who was educated in Ohio, has not gone back to savagery and cannibalism, but is still a member of the Radical United Brethren Church, and was continuing his missionary labors when arrested by order of the English government and put in prison. She says that the arrest was made because he was the chief of his tribe, and is, therefore, held responsible for any unlawful acts by the members of the tribe. He is accountable to the government for this good behavior of the tribe. Mrs. Judy's work is in the same district as Wilberforce's.

Total	$56,094.17

Above is the total amount expended by the various candidates for office in the recent State Democratic primary, with the exceptions of the cost to Judge Samuel W. Williams, of Wythe, and Captain G. H. Hulvey, of Rockingham, who were aspirants, respectively, for the positions of Attorney-General and Superintendent of Public Instruction, and who had not filed their reports up to the time for closing business at the Capitol yesterday. Their statements are most likely on the way here, and are expected this morning. It is not thought that they spent as much as $2,000 together, so the entire amount will fall below $60,000. Lieutenant-Governor Willard filed his statement into yesterday afternoon, and it exceeded in amount that of any other candidate for place on the ticket. Captain Willard expended $12,528.74, but much of it went for clerk hire, headquarters, primary fee and railroad fare. Captain Willard in his race for Governor traveled a great deal, and on several occasions, in order to keep his engagements held special trains.

Willard's Statement.

The itemized statement of Captain Willard is as follows:
Stationery, printing and postage, $3,072.37

Two other statements were filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth yesterday. They were those of Mr. Joseph D. Eggleston, Jr., and Hon. James Alton Cabell, who ran respectively, for Superintendent of Public Instruction and Lieutenant-Governor. Mr. Eggleston was as follows:

Anderson..... 828.69
J. D. Eggleston, Jr..... 807.82
Cabell..... 502.32
Harman, D. Q. Eggleston and Kolner, had no opposition. The largest amount was spent by Captain Willard and the smallest by Mr. Kolner.

Some of the candidates spent almost exactly the same amounts. This was notably true of Governor Montague and Judge Mann. The former put out $5,864.00, and the latter, $5,864.25. The difference was only 6 cents. Another case where the accounts ran nearly together, was that of Major Anderson and Mr. J. D. Eggleston, Jr. The former's account was $288.69, and that of the latter, $287.82, a difference of only $3.87. Mr. Cabell and Colonel Harman were only $26.42 apart, and there was a difference of but $30.40 between Messrs. D. Q. Eggleston and Kolner.

Postage Bills Heavy.

The single item of postage was a heavy one. Here is how the candidates paid their money out to "Uncle Sam" for the privilege of his mail services:
